- ❖ Amateur: 1 or 2 hours of classical ballet a week
- ❖ Pre-Pro: from 3 hours of classical ballet per week
- ❖ Professional: You are an executive dancer or you have the level of an executive dancer

→As a teacher, you are not allowed to register in the amateur category.

Coda reserves the right to merge categories based on the number of registrations.

- ❖ If you became first in amateur last year, we will contact you regarding possible promotion to a higher category.

FOR WHOM?

- ✓ Dancers who practice the classical style
- ✓ Girls and boys
- ✓ Men and women
- ✓ Terms to participate:
 - Being trained in the classical dance style

AGE RULE

The age that is used for Solo, Duo, Trio and Company is August 31, 2023.

Example:

If you turn 16 on August 31, 2023, then 16 is the age what you have to count on during all competitions in the 2022/2023 season (so you dance in U18).
However, if you do not turn 16 on 1 September 2023, you may dance U16 solo.

CODA reserves the right to check the registration of participants by age and category. An ID check is done on the day of the competition.

SOLO

See the age rule above

DUO/TRIO

The oldest dancer determines the age category.

COMPANY

All company compositions in terms of age are possible. The age category in which the company will dance is determined according to the following rules.

Age determination according to the age rule (see previous page).

The oldest dancers determine the age category. This with the 25% rule.

Below you will find 2 examples to clarify this rule.

Example 1
Imagine you have a company of 10 dancers: 12y, 13y, 15y, 17y, 18y, 19y, 20y, 13y, 14y, 11y. To determine the category in which they should dance, look at the oldest dancers (18, 19, 20) -> more than 25% of the dancers are older than 18, so this company dances in O18.
Example 2
Imagine you have a company of 10 dancers: 14y, 15y, 16y, 18y, 19y, 14y, 15y, 16y, 17y, 15y. To determine the category in which they should dance, look at the oldest dancers (18y, 19y) -> less than 25% of the dancers are older than 18y, so this company dances in U18.

You have to be at least with 4 dancers to form a company.

5. First aid

First aid will be present. Dancers must be in good physical condition. Illness or injury must be reported immediately to the competition management.

6. Ethics & Safety

CODA wants to guarantee the safety and positive dance experience of every dancer. Unsportive behavior can lead to disqualification.

7. Use of props & attributes

It is permitted to use attributes in the choreography, but these must be cleaned up by the dancers themselves after the dance.

The use of liquids, gel, confetti, powder or fire is not permitted.

The use of this will result in penalty points or disqualification.

8. Jury & Scoring

The jury consists of national and international classical dancers / teachers.

They will judge based on the following criteria

- ✓ TECHNIC CLASSICAL BALLET
- ✓ CREATIVITY
- ✓ EXECUTION
- ✓ AUTHENTICITY FOR IMPOSED BALLET VARIATION

9. Awards

The competition ends with an award ceremony in which all winning dancers, companies and choreographers are honored.

At the registration desk you can receive your jury commentary after the competition.

Every participant receives a certificate of participation.
